

COMPARE: Your Choice is Important, and It's Clear

Mayor Rhine McLin:

"Being Mayor is a 24/7 job I love."

- ✓ McLin balanced 8 city budgets with no tax increase. She's a former small business owner, state representative and state senate leader.
- ✓ Mayor McLin believes "our great people and inventive attitude will build the Dayton of the future."
- ✓ McLin worked with business leaders to produce major job investments in Tech Town, Wright Patterson, Dayton hospitals, downtown, residential housing and more.
- ✓ Concerned about youth, she works for summer jobs, after school activities, and better education.

The Republicans' Candidate:

Having to do the job is the "Worse Thing"

No record. No job. No elected experience. Not ready.

In Times like These, We Need a Mayor Who Works Hard!

“Being Dayton’s Mayor means hard work every day on economic, job creation, public safety and neighborhood problems. I respectfully request your support.”

Mayor Rhine McLin, endorsed by Democratic Party and the AFL-CIO

Not the Republicans’ Candidate

“The worse thing that could happen to me personally is that I get elected, because then I would have to do the job.”

Gary Leitzell, endorsed by the Republican Party
